

I'm writing to express my concern
over Sinclair
Broadcasting's plan
to broadcast a
one-sided
politically charged
anti kerry
"documentary" before the election. Given that the airwaves
are owned by the public, and that the
political process is profoundly effected
by TV and what is shown on it, I believe Sinclair
should give, free of charge, comparable
air time to a pro
kerry documentary.

If Sinclair
Broadcasting owned a few stations i would be less concerned.
But the fact is due to the consolidation of licenses a
increasingly small number of individuals have an increasing ability
to exert there
political influence
in ways that are unhealthy for a
democracy.

Thankyou
